Who is Dan Duggan?

Daniel Duggan is an Australian citizen and father of six. He was previously a US marine, who moved here in 2002 and became a citizen in January 2012.

Dan is being held in maximum security Lithgow Correctional Centre pending extradition to the United States. There, he faces politically motivated charges with a sentence of 60 years. Dan fears he will not receive a fair trial in the US and will face inhumane treatment.

Why is Dan being held?

Dan was provisionally arrested in a supermarket car park in Orange, NSW on October 21, 2022, after dropping his kids off at school. He was held for 65 days before even knowing of what he was accused. Access to his family and lawyers was extremely restricted.

Dan is being held in arbitrary detention in Lithgow prison in solitary confinement on the behest of the United States government on 13-year-old allegations related to work he undertook between 2011-2012. The US has accused Dan of training Chinese military pilots in South Africa. Dan and the company to which he was contracted affirm that all the training was open-source and was given to civilian pilots.

Dan's wife's only asset, an unfinished house in NSW has been seized by the US government leaving the family struggling financially.

Dan has no criminal record or history of violence. None of these allegations have been tested in an Australian court. Nobody from the FBI, DOJ or Federal Police has ever interviewed Dan to ask for his side of the story. Dan is a victim of circumstance; he is caught up in a moment in history.
