

Who is Dan Duggan?

Daniel Duggan is an Australian citizen and father of six. He was previously a US marine, who fell in love with Australia and became a citizen in January 2012 after moving here in 2002.

Dan is being held in Lithgow Correctional Centre pending extradition to the United States to face politically motivated charges with a sentence of 65 years, in an ideological war with China. Justifiably, Dan fears he will not receive a fair trial in the US and will face inhumane treatment.

Why is Dan being held?

Dan was provisionally arrested in a supermarket carpark in Orange on October 21, 2022, after dropping his kids off at school. He was held for 65 days before even knowing what he was accused of. Access to his family or lawyers was extremely restricted.

Dan is being held in arbitrary detention on the behest of the United States on 12-year-old allegations. These allegations relate to work he undertook between 2010-2012. They accuse Dan of training Chinese military pilots, however Dan and the company he was contracted affirm that all the training was open-source and was given to civilian pilots.

Dan has no criminal record or history of violence, and none of these allegations have been tested in an Australian court. Nobody from the FBI, DOJ or Federal Police has ever interviewed Dan to ask for his side of the story.

Dan is a victim of circumstance; he is caught up in a moment in history.
